

Urban Farm Production Course

Course Description

Colorado State University Extension is offering the Urban Farm Production Course for aspiring farmers who would like to learn essential production skills. Join us as we cover key components that farmers must know to have a successful growing season. From planning to harvesting, you will gain valuable knowledge and hands-on experience that will help you on your own production farm. Each session starts with instruction from an expert in the field. Then participants will actively apply what they learned as they engage in on-farm activities with our host site, Pioneer Farmsteaders. Make sure you sign up for this in-depth course today!

Every Fourth Tuesday March-September
Pioneer Farmsteaders
7000 Garrison St, Arvada 80004
8:30am-12:30pm
Cost $250—covers full course

Course Schedule

- March 28th      Production Planning and Seed Starting
- April 25th      Soil Management
- May 23rd        Transplanting, Sowing, and Bed Layout
- June 27th        Irrigation
- July 25th        Weed and Pest Management
- Aug 22nd        Harvesting and Food Safety Risk Management
- Sept 26th        Season Extension

Register Now! Space is limited

<http://bit.ly/2ikFeJv>

Questions?

Contact Danielle Ardrey 303-738-7977

dardrey@arapahogov.com

Extension Programs are available to all without discrimination. If you need special accommodation(s) to participate in the event listed, please contact Danielle Ardrey. Your request must be submitted at least 10 days in advance of the event.